FOREWORD

Warm greetings to you in the precious name of our Lord Jesus!

The very arrival of December brings a unique joy to everyone, for this is the month when people across the world celebrate the birth of Christ.

Yet, even as these celebrations take place on one side, on the other side our hearts must continually feel a deep burden and longing for the countless millions in our own nation of India—over 1.46 billion people—who still live in pain, sorrow, and darkness, without even knowing the name of Jesus.

As Paul says, "Preach the Word—be prepared in season and out of season." For this is the responsibility laid upon you. Let every young heart burn with the passion he expressed: "Woe to me if I do not preach the Gospel!"

Recently, the entire world watched in amazement as Jemimah played a stunning innings for India in the World Cup Semi-Final. But beyond her brilliant performance, what thrilled the nations even more was her courage to boldly lift up the name of Jesus in her interview—unashamedly declaring Him as the reason for her victory.

In this generation, many call on Jesus only when they struggle, yet once they succeed, they hide their faith, fearing how they might mention His name on global platforms. Many keep their faith tucked deep within themselves. But when Jemimah openly and lovingly testified, "Jesus is in me, Jesus is everything to me, Jesus is my victory," she stirred a holy boldness and faith within countless hearts—awakening the confidence that I too can proclaim the name of Jesus without fear!

It was truly awe-inspiring.

Dear young friend, this Christmas season, do not hesitate, do not hold back, and do not delay. Freely give what the world desperately needs...

"The love of Jesus to every Indian!"

Daring Gospel Bricker!

A Rebel to a Revival Carrier

Born in the city of Bangalore, Brother Mani Abraham was once enslaved to worldly entertainment — addicted to Reels, TikTok, and a life filled with violence and sin. But one divine encounter turned his story around completely. Let's hear from him how God touched and transformed his life.

Tell us about yourself.

My name is Mani Abraham, and I work in a private courier company in Bangalore. I was born into a family that did not know Jesus. I have two elder brothers and one elder sister. When my eldest brother was a little boy, his leg swelled up, and he couldn't walk. A Christian family living near our home told my mother, "If you go to church and pray, your son will be healed."

My mother took my brother to church and prayed, and the Lord miraculously healed him! That miracle opened her eyes — she realized that Jesus is the true God. From that day onward, she accepted Jesus as her personal Savior and began leading all of us to follow Christ.

How was your childhood?

My mother was a woman of deep faith and devotion. She never missed church and brought us along every week. But to be honest, I didn't go willingly — I went only because my mother insisted. My mind was always on worldly things. On Sundays, all I could think about was watching movies. As soon as the church service ended, I would run off to the theatre or go out with friends. That was my routine life.

What about your school days?

When I entered high school, my behavior, attitude, and even my dressing style began to change. I was made the class leader, which filled me with pride. I misused that position. I started thinking, "Everyone listens to me — that means I have power. If I'm a leader, everyone must obey me. So why not become a rowdy?"

I began carrying a small knife in my school bag. I would jokingly show it to my friends, pretending to stab them, just to prove I was bold. My family knew nothing about this. My language became filthy, and I used to fight and curse freely. That was how my teenage years went.

How about your college?

When I joined college, I had many friends — but unfortunately, all of them were just like me: aggressive and violent. During the lockdown period, this behavior only grew worse. If we saw a fight anywhere, we'd jump in to beat others up.

Sometimes, even if I didn't like someone, I would intentionally start a fight.

I always had three or four boys hanging around with me. I wanted at least ten people under me — I wanted to be known as the leader of rowdies! I even began reading about famous gangsters and felt inspired by their stories. At the same time, I became addicted to TikTok and Reels. I made videos every day, and when people liked and commented, I felt thrilled. It became an obsession. My days revolved around posting, watching, and craving more likes.

How did your life turn toward God?

Though I lived a sinful life, I still went to church occasionally. But it was all routine — no personal prayer, no Bible reading, no family devotion. I only prayed during exams, out of fear. I didn't have any real relationship with Jesus.

In 2022, my sister's daughter suddenly fell sick. We took her to several hospitals in our city, but nothing worked. Our family was heartbroken and in tears. Out of desperation, we called the Jesus Redeems prayer line and requested prayer. They told us about the "Come Let's Pray" program, and we started watching it regularly.

During one episode, Bro. Mohan C. Lazarus prayed first for forgiveness of sins and then for miracles. When he said, "Lay your hands on the sick and pray," I placed my hand on my niece and prayed. Then suddenly, I heard Mohan uncle say, "Take your hand away. Your sin is standing in the way of this miracle."

Those words pierced my heart. I went aside, knelt down, and began to confess all my sins before God. That day, I felt a deep peace I had never experienced before — a joy that made me feel as if I was flying in the sky! I knew for sure that my sins were forgiven. From that day onward, I started watching Come Let's Pray program regularly, listening to God's Word, and praying daily. My family also began having family prayer together. I, who once couldn't pray even ten minutes, began spending hours in prayer.

A New Calling

Later, I attended the Igniters Camp at Nalumavadi. For three days, I was taught about revival and the coming of Jesus in a deep and powerful way. There, I received a new anointing and committed myself to serve the Lord in my hometown. From that moment, my life changed completely.

Now, apart from my job, I serve in Gospel ministry. The Lord has also given me the privilege to serve alongside our church pastor. Truly, God has transformed my entire life.

What would you like to say to today's youth?

Dear young people, if you will surrender your life to God, remove the things that displease Him, and listen to His voice, He will use you mightily as a vessel for His glory. When I confessed and gave up the things God asked me to leave, He began to use me in His service. And He will do the same for you.

Dear young readers, If God could transform Mani Abraham, a young man who once desired to be a rowdy, into a passionate servant of Jesus Christ – He can change you too! No matter what sin or bondage holds you today, surrender your life to Christ just as he did, and you will see the Lord make you a flame of revival for His kingdom!

Do Good

Message
Mohan C. Lazarus

“He (Cornelius) was a devout man and one who feared God with all his household, gave generously to those in need, and prayed to God continually” — (Acts 10:2).

Cornelius, the Roman centurion, though unaware of who the true God was, still believed that there is indeed one divine being worthy of reverence. Out of this conviction, he lived a life marked by generosity, giving to the poor and the needy. One day, an angel appeared and said to him, “Your prayers and your alms have come up before God as a memorial.”

Every act of kindness we do for others reaches the very presence of God. Therefore, we must dedicate ourselves to doing good and practicing generosity.

WHY SHOULD WE DO GOOD?

1. IT IS GOD’S COMMAND

“The poor will never cease from the land; therefore, I command you to open your hand wide to your brother, to the poor and needy in your land.” — Deuteronomy 15:11

Our Lord is full of compassion and concern for the poor and lowly; that is why He gave this command. The Bible warns that whoever mocks or insults the poor actually reproaches their Maker (Proverbs 17:5). We must never despise those who are simple or struggling, for God Himself cares deeply for them.

2. DOING GOOD IS LENDING TO THE LORD

“He who has pity on the poor lends to the Lord, and He will pay back what he has given.” — Proverbs 19:17

When you give to the poor, you are, in fact, giving a loan to the Lord! Many people believe they give to God only when they offer tithes or offerings in church, but the Word says otherwise. Whenever you extend help to a widow, an orphan, or anyone in distress, you are giving directly to God — and He will surely repay you.

The Lord once spoke to me clearly:

“Just as you set apart a portion for ministry, set apart a portion for the poor.”

Since then, both in my personal life and in our Jesus Redeems ministry, I have always divided our offerings into three parts: one for the Lord’s work, one for ministers in need, and one for the poor.

Every Christian must learn this discipline — to do good to others — for it is a divine command.

TO WHOM SHOULD WE DO GOOD?

1. To Those Who Deserve It

“Do not withhold good from those to whom it is due, when it is in the power of your hand to do so” — (Proverbs 3:27)

The Bible doesn’t say to do good to everyone indiscriminately; it says to do good to those who truly deserve it.

Once, a man without arms came to me asking for help. He said tearfully, “I have to conduct my daughter’s marriage, but I have no money for food for the guests.” Surprisingly, I didn’t feel led to help him, so I simply took his contact and sent someone to verify. Later, we discovered his story was false — there was no wedding at all! That’s why God closed my heart.

God doesn’t want us to be deceived; He instructs us to help the truly needy, not those who manipulate.

2. To the Family of Faith

“Therefore, as we have opportunity, let us do good to all, especially to those who are of the household of faith.” — (Galatians 6:10)

Regardless of race or religion, if someone is in need, help them. But especially, extend kindness to fellow believers — those newly saved or struggling in faith.

Years ago, while ministering in a village, I met a poor widow with an unemployed daughter. Her husband had lost his eyesight, and they had no food left — not even a handful of rice. With tears, she said, “Why should we even live? There’s no one to help us.”

After praying for her, as I was about to leave, the Lord said to me,

“You say I will provide — through whom will I provide if not you? Give to them.”

Immediately, I gave whatever money I had to her and said, “Don’t be troubled. Just as the Lord provided today, He will continue to provide every day.” Months later, she came joyfully saying, “My daughter got a job!” We rejoiced and glorified God.

3. To God’s Servants

“Let him who is taught the word share in all good things with him who teaches.” — Galatians 6:6

Those who teach us God’s Word deserve to share in the blessings we receive. Support pastors, missionaries, and ministers who work tirelessly, often with very little.

Buy a bicycle for one who walks from village to village preaching the Gospel. Offer them a meal, a set of clothes, or any help that strengthens their ministry. When you serve God’s servants as the widow of Zarephath served Elijah, you will see how abundantly God blesses you.

Jesus said, “Whatever you did for one of the least of these brothers of mine, you did it for Me.” — (Matthew 25:40)

HOW SHOULD WE DO GOOD?

Do not borrow money to do good. Instead, give from what you already have.

Notice those around you — in your church, school, or community — who are struggling and offer practical help.

If a classmate cannot afford books or fees, help them.

If you meet poor people on the streets, help them find work or provide for their needs.

When you do this, God will pour out His blessings upon you abundantly.

Conclusion

Doing good is not optional; it is the heartbeat of a true believer.

When we bless others, heaven takes notice.

Let us live as Cornelius did — with prayerful hearts, generous hands, and a life that continually rises before God as a memorial of love and compassion.

Give Generously!

The Christmas season always brings great joy and excitement. That particular year, as Christmas drew near, everyone was busy preparing to celebrate the festive days. But for Alex and his family, there was no sign of joy or enthusiasm in their home. That year, their financial situation was very poor. It was difficult even to get through each month without falling into debt. As Christmas approached, Alex's mind was filled with anxious thoughts: "How are we going to celebrate this year?" Still, for the sake of their children's happiness, they put up a small Christmas tree and decorated it with twinkling lights. Seeing the children dreamily preparing their wish lists made Alex's heart ache even more.

As Christmas came closer, worry and weariness surrounded Alex. Two days before Christmas, when the family returned home after being out, they were amazed to find several gift boxes neatly stacked outside their doorstep. Upon checking, they discovered that there were two gifts for every member of the family. Their hearts overflowed with joy, and the spirit of Christmas filled their home again. Yet there was no note, no name, no clue — no one knew who had left those gifts. That year, Alex and his family celebrated one of their happiest Christmases ever, filled with gratitude and wonder.

THE TRUE JOY OF CHRISTMAS

When we think of Christmas, what usually comes to mind are new clothes, gifts, decorating the house, and enjoying delicious festive meals. There's nothing wrong with that — but the true joy of Christmas is not found in what we receive; it's found in what we give.

The Bible says, "For God so loved the world that He gave His one and only Son, that whoever believes in Him shall not perish but have eternal life" (John 3:16). God expressed His immeasurable love by giving His only Son for our salvation. In the same way, we are called to share His love with others — especially during this Christmas season.

How can we express the love of Jesus this Christmas?

Do Good

As we joyfully celebrate the festival, let us remember - around us are many who are struggling with need and hardship. Some may be right in your own neighbourhood.

Find them. Help them.

- Share a good meal with someone less fortunate.
- Give a gift to an orphaned or needy child and bring a smile to their face.

The Bible says, "Let your light shine before others, that they may see your good deeds and glorify your Father in heaven" (Matthew 5:16). Through our good deeds, we glorify God's name. Even a small act of kindness can make a great impact in someone's life. The Apostle Paul also wrote to Timothy: "Command them to do good, to be rich in good deeds, and to be generous and willing to share" (1 Timothy 6:18). Let us not do good for fame or recognition as the world does, but to reveal Christ's love through our actions.

Share the Gospel

There's no better time to share the Gospel than during Christmas. Thousands around us still do not know Jesus. This festive season, we can share sweets, small gifts, or cards along with the message of Jesus Christ's love. The seeds of the Gospel that we plant will one day bear fruit — and the person you share it with may one day come to salvation. "Preach the Word; be prepared in season and out of season," (2 Timothy 4:2). Let us use this opportunity to spread the Good News and dedicate ourselves to reaching souls for Christ. Let's share the priceless gift we have received - Jesus Himself - with many others, and make this Christmas truly meaningful.

Dear Young Friends, This Christmas season, do good, share the Gospel, and labor to bring many into God's Kingdom. Having received the blessing of Christ's birth, pass it on to others - and celebrate this Christmas with true joy and purpose!

I Am a Prayer Warrior

Over the past eleven months, we have reflected on many types of prayer—each one with its own unique purpose and divine significance. Now that we have reached the final month of this year, even if we were to thank the Lord a million times for His goodness throughout these twelve months, it still wouldn't be enough. This month, as we meditate on the Prayer of Thanksgiving, let us consider a few essential truths.

Event: Jeyaseelan

What is a Prayer of Thanksgiving?

A prayer of thanksgiving is an expression of gratitude to God—for His help, His blessings, and His unfailing love. It is human nature to expect gratitude when we do something good for others. When someone receives our help and fails to thank us, it hurts. In the same way, when we forget to thank God for His goodness, it grieves His heart. Therefore, it is essential that we become people with thankful hearts, never forgetting the Lord's benefits.

Thanksgiving Prayers in the Bible

David: In many Psalms, David continually gave thanks to the Lord (Psalm 107:1–3).

Isaiah: In chapter 12, he sang a beautiful song of thanksgiving to God.

Paul: In Colossians 4:2, Paul exhorts, “Continue earnestly in prayer, being vigilant in it with thanksgiving.”

He also writes in Colossians 3:17, “And what- ever you do, in word or deed, do everything in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God the Father through Him.”

The Israelites: In the Old Testament, the Israelites often offered prayers of thanksgiving for God's mighty works. For example, in Psalm 107, they praised Him for delivering them from captivity and distress.

Jesus and the One Grateful Leper

When ten lepers cried out to Jesus for mercy, He said, “Go, show yourselves to the priests.”

As they went, all ten were healed. Yet only one man—a Samaritan—returned to thank Jesus, falling at His feet and praising God with a loud voice. Then Jesus asked, “Were not all ten cleansed? Where are the other nine? Has no one returned to give praise to God except this foreigner?” And He said to the man, “Rise and go; your faith has made you well.” (Luke 17:17–19)

In those days, lepers were cast out of homes and communities. There was no cure, and only a priest could certify their healing before they could return home. Imagine their joy when Jesus healed them! Yet, nine of them went their way, forgetting to thank the very One who had given them new life. Perhaps they thought, “Jesus told us to go, so let’s just obey.” Gratitude never crossed their minds.

How often have we cried out to God in desperation — “Lord, please help me!”—and once He answered, drifted away, forgetting His mercy?

Have there been days when you forgot to thank Him for His countless blessings? Let’s return to His feet today. Let’s bow down before Him and offer heartfelt thanksgiving. Just as Jesus searched for the nine who didn’t return, He still seeks us—those whom He redeemed by shedding His own blood. Let us return to that good and gracious God with grateful hearts.

At the Year’s End

We’ve come to the close of this year. Let us pause and thank the Lord for every blessing He has done for us throughout these months. Do you ever think, “Why should I thank God? I earned this by my own strength and wisdom.”?

If so, remember this: “It is by the Lord’s pure grace that we stand and are not consumed.” We are alive today only because of His mercy.

Why Gratitude Matters

It is when we forget God’s goodness that pride and arrogance begin to dominate our hearts. The truth is, we are not where we once were—the Lord has lifted us up.

When we forget our past and what He has brought us through, pride creeps in, whispering, “I am better than others.” That’s why our prayer must be:

“Lord Jesus, give me a thankful heart—one that never forgets the good You have done.”

Dear young friends,

Be thankful in all things.

God doesn’t expect great sacrifices or riches from you—He simply desires your gratitude.

Whatever happens, thank Him. For every prayer you make with a thankful heart,

God will surely answer.

And His presence will remain with you always.

The Tabernacle

The Tabernacle of Worship serves as both a model of heavenly worship and a symbolic revelation of the nature of Jesus Christ and the stages of Christian life.

THE TABERNACLE – GOD DWELLING AMONG HIS PEOPLE

The Tabernacle (Hebrew: Mishkan, meaning “dwelling place”) was a temporary structure, representing God’s desire to dwell among His people. Just as human beings live together under one roof, God too longed to live among the Israelites. He didn’t wait for them to reach the Promised Land or build a temple before being with them. From the moment He delivered them out of Egypt, He chose to dwell in their midst — right there in the wilderness. In the same way, God doesn’t wait for us to reach heaven to dwell with us. He longs to live among us, even now, here on earth.

THE SINGLE ENTRANCE – CHRIST THE ONLY WAY

The Tabernacle had only one entrance. Likewise, there is only one way to heaven — Jesus Christ. “I am the way, the truth, and the life.” (John 14:6) “I am the door; whoever enters through Me will be saved.” (John 10:9) The entrance to the Tabernacle faced west, opposite the direction of sunrise. Entering meant turning one’s back on the sun, symbolically rejecting sun worship, which was widely practiced in Egypt at that time. Thus, stepping into the Tabernacle signified turning away from worldly worship and stepping toward the one true God.

THE SACRIFICE OF GRACE

Inside the Tabernacle, five main sacrifices were offered:

1. The Burnt Offering
2. The Grain Offering
3. The Peace Offering
4. The Sin Offering
5. The Guilt Offering

All these sacrifices together pointed to the ultimate Sacrifice of Grace — Jesus Christ, who, out of His deep love, offered Himself for the remission of our sins. “This is love: not that we loved God, but that He loved us and sent His Son as an atoning sacrifice for our sins.” (1 John 4:10)

GOD PROVIDES IN ABUNDANCE

“The people had brought more than enough for doing the work the Lord commanded to be done.” (Exodus 36:7) The materials brought for constructing the Tabernacle were not only sufficient but more than enough! When God commands us to do something, He also provides abundantly for it. If we build our studies, careers, businesses, ministries, families, and future according to His Word, we will never lack anything.

FOLLOWING THE DIVINE PATTERN

The Tabernacle was built exactly according to the pattern shown by God. If Moses had received the blueprint when he was forty years old — a time when he was filled with Egyptian wisdom — he might have designed it in his own way, inspired by the grandeur of Egypt's pyramids and architecture. But Moses did not rely on his knowledge or creativity. He built it precisely as God commanded.

Likewise, we must not twist or adjust the Word of God to suit our preferences. God's instructions must be followed as He said — not as we wish.

BEZALEL – FILLED WITH THE SPIRIT OF WISDOM

"I have filled him with the Spirit of God, with wisdom, with understanding, with knowledge, and with all kinds of skills — to make artistic designs for work in gold, silver, and bronze." (Exodus 31:5) Bezalel's name means "In the shadow of God." He was filled with divine wisdom and creativity to design and craft the elements of the Tabernacle. When we live under the shadow of the Almighty, He too will fill us with wisdom, skill, and purpose — using us mightily for His glory.

THE CALL TO THE WISE-HEARTED

"Then Moses called Bezalel and Oholiab, and every skilled person to whom the Lord had given ability and who was willing to come and do the work." (Exodus 36:2)

To build the Tabernacle, God raised up wise-hearted people — those who were not only skilled but also willing and stirred by the Spirit. Today, in these last days, God is again looking for such wise-hearted people — to build His Kingdom, to prepare the nations for His coming, and to spread the fire of revival everywhere. Are you ready to be one of them?

Let us join together, rise up, and spread the fire of revival!

Mount Sinai

(One-Day Youth Fasting Prayer) 2026

With the burning vision that, in these end times, young people must rise as intercessors for the nation and as warriors who carry the Gospel to perishing souls, the Mount Sinai One-Day Youth Fasting Prayer Gathering has been held across many locations on every Diwali day for the past 15 years. This year too, by God's grace, Mount Sinai gatherings were conducted in 33 locations across the states of Tamil Nadu, Andhra Pradesh, Karnataka, Kerala, Pondicherry, and Maharashtra. Around 6,500 young people came together, fasting and praying throughout the entire day.

With a deep longing to see youth rise like Elijah, this year's theme was: "Arise oh Elijah! Clothe Yourself with Power." In the first session, the Lord used His servants to challenge the youth to stand in the presence of God like Elijah. In the second session, the Word emphasized the need for young believers to operate in God-given power and spiritual gifts for His Kingdom.

At Nalumavadi, the Lord mightily used Bro. Mohan C. Lazarus and Sis. Ashley. Many dedicated themselves to stand in the gap for the nation, to boldly share the Gospel, to abstain from everything that displeases God, and to labor earnestly for revival.

A Missionary Who Feared Nothing for Christ!

Last month, we read about the missionary work of Rev. Alexander Duff. This month, let us look at the life of another missionary who fearlessly served the Lord - a man who stood boldly among brutal cannibals on a dangerous island, surrounded by tribes armed with deadly weapons. With love and compassion, he offered himself for the sake of the Gospel, unafraid even to lose his life for Christ.

Early Life

John G. Paton was born in 1824 in Scotland. As a child, his home had a small room called the "Holy Place." His father would go into that room three times a day to pray. The sight of his father's prayer life deeply impacted young John, stirring in him a desire to know Christ personally and to serve Him as a missionary.

John pursued theological studies at a seminary in Glasgow while working as a teacher in a local school. He also joined the Glasgow City Mission, an organization serving the poor and downtrodden. For ten long years, he toiled in this mission before seeing visible fruits of his labour. Many drunkards, idle men, and God-mockers were led to Christ through his ministry. Despite his heavy workload, he continued his theological education faithfully.

The Call to Dangerous Lands

When no one was willing to go to the perishing tribes to share the Gospel, John felt a divine call: "You rise and dedicate yourself to this mission." Obeying this call, at the age of 34 (in 1858), John and his wife set sail for the New Hebrides Islands. After a long voyage, they reached Tanna, an island inhabited by savage cannibals - a place full of danger but desperately in need of the Gospel.

John resolved first to learn their language, translate the Bible, and teach them to read it. But things did not unfold as he expected. Within a short time, his wife died of malaria, and two weeks later, their infant son also passed away. Yet John did not lose heart. He believed that God had sent him there for a purpose and continued the mission, though he stood alone — a widower and a grieving father in a land of hostility.

Facing Persecution

The islanders worshiped evil spirits and the souls of their ancestors. They had no understanding of natural death. Whenever someone died, they blamed John saying, “Your God caused this death, so we will kill you!”

The sorcerers of the land feared that if the people accepted the Gospel, their own power and influence would vanish. Hence, whenever calamities struck, they stirred the people to accuse the missionaries, claiming, “These white men have angered the gods!” and sought to kill them.

John’s ministry was filled with danger, persecution, and threats. Yet, even amid constant fear and hardship, he pressed on for four years. Eventually, he returned to Scotland for a short rest. There, he preached in many churches, sharing about the needs of his mission field. His passionate testimony inspired four young men to dedicate their lives as missionaries to the same islands.

The Aniwa Mission

In January 1865, John moved to the nearby island of Aniwa. There too, dangers awaited him, but his faith stood firm. He learned the Aniwa language and used the same methods he had practiced in Tanna - translating the Scriptures, teaching literacy, and preaching Christ.

Over time, many islanders accepted Jesus. Yet opposition persisted — from nature and from men. Since the island lacked clean water for drinking or washing, John decided to dig a well. The people mocked him saying, “Water comes only from the sky through rain. This man is mad to dig the earth for it!”

But John continued digging, full of faith and prayer. One day, the ground grew damp — a sign that water was near. He gathered the villagers around and drew water from the pit. Amazed, they cried, “How wonderful! Rain is coming from under the ground!”

When they asked how this was possible, John said, “We had no water, so I prayed to God, and He gave it to us.” The island chief, astonished, shouted, “Jehovah is the true God!”

That well achieved what years of sermons could not — it turned the hearts of the people toward the Living God. Many believed in Jesus and were baptized. During dry seasons, the people survived by drinking from that very well.

A Lasting Legacy

In 1899, John Paton published the New Testament in the Aniwa language. Realizing the need for a place of worship, the new believers built a church together joyfully. He also compiled and printed a hymn book in their language and established two orphan homes. Many of those orphans later became teachers and Gospel workers.

No matter how many trials came his way, John held on to his unshakable faith: “The One who called me is faithful. His hand will guide me, and He will never forsake me.” Because of his tireless service, countless people continue to worship Christ even today. Let us, too, dedicate ourselves wholly to Jesus and His Kingdom, with the same passion, courage, and surrender that filled the life of John G. Paton, the fearless missionary of the islands!

"Wheels of Victory"!

Warm greetings to all my beloved young achievers! In this world, there is nothing that we cannot accomplish. Yet many of us, the moment we face a setback or a struggle, give up, saying, "I can't do this anymore." But those who think differently - those who say, "Let failure or struggle come; it cannot stop me!" and press on with courage and focus - are the ones whom success runs after. Here's the inspiring journey of one such achiever who turned the impossible into possible - the story of Ekta Bhyan.

A Life Rewritten by Courage

Ekta Bhyan was born in 1985 in the state of Haryana, India. Like every other child, she was active in both academics and sports, full of enthusiasm and determination. But in 2003, when she was just 17 years old, a tragic bus accident changed her life forever. She suffered severe spinal cord injuries that left her paralyzed from the waist down. Doctors said she would never walk again and would have to spend the rest of her life in a wheelchair. What could have become the end of her dreams became, instead, the turning point of her life. Ekta refused to sink into despair or self-pity. Instead, she embraced a new beginning with hope and joy, determined to make her life meaningful again.

Rising Beyond Limitations

She completed her Master's degree in English and, in 2011, cleared the prestigious Haryana Civil Services Examination. She now serves as an Assistant Director in the State Department of Employment. In 2014, she turned her eyes toward sports once again — this time as a para-athlete. She began training in club throw and discus throw events, sports that required immense discipline and perseverance. Her hard work soon bore fruit. In 2016, at the IPC Grand Prix held in Berlin, she won a silver medal in the club throw category. Two years later, at the 2018 Asian Para Games held in Jakarta, she brought glory to India by winning the gold medal. Continuing her success, in 2025, at the World Para Athletics Championships held in New Delhi, she once again secured a silver medal in the club throw event — her ninth international medal!

In recognition of her incredible spirit and achievements, she was honoured in 2018 with the National Award for Empowerment of Persons with Disabilities under the category “Differently-abled Athlete of the Year.”

A Story that Inspires!

Dear readers, Ekta's life was completely transformed by an accident — but instead of letting it end her story, she rewrote it with courage. If she had given in to the thought, “I can't do anything anymore,” none of us would have known her name today. It was her firm belief — “No matter what comes my way, I can overcome it” — that led her to the path of victory.

And today, the same question stands before you: What will your decision be?

Will you say “I can” or “I can't”? The answer lies in your hands.

SENSATIONAL News

Hi friends! How are you all doing? It brings me great joy to meet you once again in this beautiful month when we celebrate the birth of Christ! Alright then... let's dive right into our story for this month.

In the Bible, we read that Jesus once crossed the Sea of Galilee and came to the region of the Gerasenes. As soon as He stepped out of the boat, a man possessed by a legion of demons came running toward Him. This man, filled with thousands of evil spirits, had lost all control over his life. The demons made him act violently and unnaturally. No one could restrain him — not even with chains. Day and night, he lived among the tombs and in the mountains, screaming and cutting himself with stones. But when he saw Jesus from afar, he ran and fell at His feet, worshipping Him. The demons within him begged Jesus not to cast them out of that region, but instead to send them into a nearby herd of pigs. Jesus permitted it — and in that moment, the man was completely set free. He who was once violent and tormented became calm and gentle — a true follower of Christ.

While reflecting on this miracle, I began to wonder: Could such transformations still happen today? Could Jesus still change the heart of even the most wicked person? And just as I was pondering this, I came across a stunning real-life story from Bihar that shook my heart — a testimony from the GEMS missionary organization.

The Story of Shaily

A little girl named Shaily, just four years old, was brought to the GEMS Mission Center after losing both her parents. She was a shy, quiet child — but in that loving environment, she came to know the love of Christ at a very young age. Years later, when she turned eleven, her relatives deceitfully took her away from the mission and arranged a marriage for her. This news deeply grieved the GEMS staff. The man she was forced to marry was a government contractor, but in reality, he was a cruel and violent man — a criminal with a savage temper. He despised Shaily and treated her harshly.

A Miracle Through Prayer

Years passed. One day, this man's younger brother fell severely ill. Despite spending thousands of rupees for treatment at Banaras University Hospital, there was no improvement. Doctors finally gave up hope. They brought the young man home, and even then, they tried every possible means — witchcraft, rituals, and charms — but nothing worked. His condition only worsened. In that desperate situation, Shaily's husband noticed her strong prayer life and came to her with a broken heart.

He said, "Please pray for my brother." She replied firmly, "I am ready to pray, and my Jesus will heal him. But you must make a promise — that from this day, you will never take up weapons again and that you will follow Jesus." He was furious and said, "If my brother doesn't get healed, I'll shoot you dead!" Even then, Shaily did not fear. She fell on her knees and began to pray earnestly. For three long hours, she cried out to God with all her heart. And then — a miracle happened. Her husband's brother was completely healed! This powerful miracle not only saved a life — it transformed her violent husband's heart. The man who once hated God surrendered his life to Jesus Christ. Together, the couple began to serve the Lord through ministry. Even when they were attacked multiple times for preaching the Gospel — even when they were shot at once — they continued their ministry with unwavering faith and boldness. Wow... what a mighty transformation, right, friends?

Not only did Jesus heal a sick man, but He also changed a cruel-hearted sinner into a faithful servant of God! This isn't just healing — it's the miracle of a changed heart. When we hold on to Jesus with unwavering faith in the midst of our trials, the power of God not only brings healing but also transforms lives in ways we can't imagine.

Dear friends, God is still in the business of changing lives. Just as He used Shaily to bring salvation to her family, He wants to use you too — to be a channel of transformation for others. Are you ready, friends, to be that vessel?

Alcohol Consumption

In Tamil Nadu, there are 4,829 TASMALC liquor shops and about 3,240 bars attached to these outlets.

Each day, liquor sales generate ₹120–130 crores, which rises to ₹140–150 crores on weekends.

During festive seasons, the figures soar by another 15%. Last year, liquor sales during Diwali touched ₹438 crores. This year, the government set a target of ₹600 crores, yet the sales exceeded expectations, reaching an astonishing ₹789.85 crores. Specifically, on October 18, 2025, sales recorded ₹230.06 crores; on October 19, ₹293.73 crores; and on Diwali day, ₹266.06 crores. In India, among people above 15 years of age, 18.7% of men and 1.3% of women consume alcohol.

Prayer Points

1. Pray for the complete closure of liquor shops across Tamil Nadu.
2. Pray that leaders and authorities will understand that income through liquor brings a curse, not a blessing.
3. Pray that the destruction of families and relationships caused by alcohol addiction will be stopped.
4. Pray for protection from accidents and deaths resulting from alcohol consumption.

Climate Change and Seasonal Diseases

Due to climate change, seasonal fevers have become common in various parts of the state. Typically, these illnesses spread widely during October and November, but last year, they persisted from August until April. This year too, fevers and respiratory infections have been spreading rapidly. Influenza has affected people across all age groups, while dengue fever is on the rise, causing public fear and concern. According to the Health Department, 60 –70 people are being treated for dengue every day. So far this year, over 14,000 cases have been reported, and 7 people have lost their lives.

Prayer Points

1. Pray for God's divine protection over everyone against diseases caused by seasonal changes.
2. Pray that the government will take preventive measures to stop the spread of fever and respiratory illnesses.
3. Pray for the complete healing of all those affected by dengue fever and for divine protection during the rainy season.
4. Pray that the spread of infections caused by climate change will be restrained and that people will be safeguarded from contagious diseases.

Rising Food Prices

India, now the fifth-largest economy in the world, is facing a severe challenge — the sharp rise in food prices, making healthy meals unaffordable for many families. According to surveys conducted in 2024, Mumbai alone has seen a 65% increase in food prices over the last five years.

The World Bank released a shocking report stating that:

- In Russia, 93% of people cannot afford healthy food.
- In Pakistan, 83% face the same issue.
- In India, 74% of the population lacks access to nutritious food.

Prayer Points

1. Pray that the food shortage caused by floods and the destruction of crops in several states will be reversed.
2. Pray for abundant rainfall and blessings upon southern states suffering from drought, so that agriculture may flourish again.
3. Pray that God will send rain in due season and wipe away the tears of the farmers.
4. Pray that India's economy will prosper and that inflation and food prices will come down.

Adulterated and Fake Medicines

The World Health Organization has reported that fake and substandard medicines are being sold in India by several unauthorized companies. Recently, the death of 20 children in Madhya Pradesh and Rajasthan due to adulterated cough syrup shocked the nation. Investigations confirmed that the syrup — produced by Kancheepuram-based Srisan Pharma under the brand name Coldrip — contained diethylene glycol, a deadly toxin. Over the past six years, more than 120 children have died due to similar adulterated syrups. Cough syrups usually include solvents like propylene glycol, glycerin, and sorbitol to dissolve ingredients. However, in these cases, the manufacturers mistakenly or negligently used industrial-grade diethylene glycol, a toxic chemical that causes severe kidney damage, nervous system failure, and death. India earns nearly $30 billion (₹3,000 crores) annually through pharmaceutical exports, but such tragedies reveal the dark side of negligence in medicine production.

Prayer Points

1. Pray that fake medicine production and distribution will be strictly monitored and brought to justice.
2. Pray that counterfeit medicines will be quickly identified and destroyed before harming anyone.
3. Pray that the licenses of companies involved in manufacturing adulterated medicines will be revoked, and that those responsible will repent of their wrongdoing.
4. Pray that no more lives will be lost due to contaminated or sub-standard drugs.

Broken Boundaries!

My name is Juliet, I am 19 years old, and currently pursuing college. My sister is 26, married, and has two children. Her husband is 30 years old. One day, my brother-in-law dropped me off at college on his motorbike. From that moment, I began to feel a strange attraction toward him. In a few days, that attraction slowly turned into what I believed was love. I began to imagine him as my future husband and lived with that thought. When my sister came to know of this, she scolded me. My parents too rebuked me harshly. Yet, I am unable to forget him. Though everyone tells me that my feelings and thoughts are wrong, my heart refuses to accept it. Social media and television are filled with such stories and serials. In today's world, can anyone really call this wrong? My friends also tell me, "You have the right to live as you wish. There's no law against loving who you want."

Even my inner voice tells me that such a relationship isn't wrong.

— Juliet, Chennai.

Dear Juliet, Reading your letter brings both shock and deep sadness. The beautiful bond of family should never be distorted or dishonoured. Our relationships are meant to be sacred and respectful. Your sister's husband should be regarded as a father figure - a relationship to be respected, not romanticised. To call such a bond love or attraction is not only wrong, it must be called what it truly is - an inappropriate and sinful desire. The feelings you have toward your brother-in-law are not love, but lust - something dangerous and degrading.

Juliet, just because television serials or social media normalize such acts does not make them right.

Many people who tried to imitate such relationships in their own lives have ended in tragedy and shame, as seen repeatedly in media reports. It is natural for a man to be attracted to a woman or a woman to a man - that is part of human emotion. But such attraction must be fulfilled only within the sacred bond of marriage. Anything outside of that boundary is sin.

In this modern culture, where even a 60-year-old man's attraction to a 10-year-old girl is excused, it is not love - it is perversion and moral decay. Similarly, when a 40-year-old woman is drawn toward a 15-year-old boy, that is not love - it is lust and corruption, acts that degrade human dignity.

Today, values such as virtue, purity, discipline, and respect are fading away. Behaving worse than animals and calling it modernity or freedom is neither progress nor civilization. Though humanity has advanced in knowledge, technology, and artificial intelligence, people have forgotten the beauty of the sacred relationships God created. It is this moral decay that has made it necessary for nations to establish strict laws.

For example, the POCSO Act (Protection of Children from Sexual Offences) was introduced to safeguard children because adults - who are meant to protect them - have become the very ones destroying their innocence and lives.

Juliet, if you decide to turn away from this sinful path, you can begin a new life again.

Here are a few steps to help you overcome this wrong desire:

- ▶ Acknowledge that your thoughts are wrong. The first step toward freedom is confession.
- ▶ Change your mindset. Do not allow your imagination to feed sinful desires.
- ▶ Avoid watching films or programs that stir up lustful thoughts or reinforce immoral relationships.
- ▶ Stay away temporarily from visiting your sister's home or seeing her husband.
- ▶ Cut off bad company — those friends who encourage such sinful behaviour.
- ▶ Pray daily, realizing that this desire is sin and will lead you into impurity if you continue.
- ▶ Only Jesus Christ can forgive your sins and set you free.
- ▶ Nothing is impossible if you are willing to change.

But if you continue thinking, "This isn't wrong," and nurture this desire...

- ▶ Your thoughts may soon turn into actions.
- ▶ You may end up living an immoral and broken life.
- ▶ Your sister's family could be torn apart.
- ▶ The future of her two children could be ruined.
- ▶ Your own family may reject you and society will shame you.
- ▶ You may lose your studies, reputation, and peace, becoming a symbol of disgrace.
- ▶ In despair, you might even make destructive decisions you'll regret forever.

Every sinful act seems pleasurable at first, but in the end, it brings only pain and tears. It is wise to correct a wrong thought while it's still a thought — because once it turns into action, it will bring deep sorrow and shame.

Juliet, pause for a moment and reflect. You can still come out of this pit. Jesus Christ forgives every sin and gives new life. Only He can set you free from this bondage of sinful thoughts. Surrender your weaknesses to God, remain steadfast in prayer, and you will surely receive deliverance.
"Lord, there is no one like you to help the powerless against the mighty."
(2 Chronicles 14:11)

In Record-Breaking UPI Transactions in India!

In a historic financial milestone, India has achieved an unprecedented record in UPI (Unified Payments Interface) transactions, with a total transfer value of ₹27.28 lakh crore in just one month.

According to the latest report released by the National Payments Corporation of India (NPCI), during October, the total number of UPI transactions reached 2,070 crore, marking a 3.6% increase compared to September's figures. This phenomenal growth, never seen before in India's digital payment history, is attributed to GST reforms and the festive season boost, which significantly increased the flow of digital money through UPI.

On average, India recorded ₹66.8 crore UPI transactions every day, showcasing the massive adoption of cashless payments across the nation.

AI Triggers a Job Shock!

Over 1 Lakh Employees
Dismissed — Amazon, Microsoft, Intel Workers Fearful

The rise of Artificial Intelligence (AI) has brought not only innovation but also widespread concern across the global tech industry. Major corporations such as Amazon, Intel, and Microsoft have collectively laid off 1,12,000 employees this year. Amazon alone has announced plans to dismiss 30,000 employees, following a previous round of 27,000 layoffs in 2022, sending shockwaves across the corporate world.

According to Layoffs.fyi, an independent monitoring platform, 218 technology companies, including TCS, have reduced their workforce due to automation and AI integration. Intel is reportedly set to cut 24,000 jobs this year, bringing its total employee count down from 1 lakh to 75,000.

Meanwhile, TCS has reduced 20,000 positions, and Microsoft has cut around 9,000 employees, further highlighting the tremors caused by the AI revolution in the tech industry.

No Trend My Friend

Hi friends! How are you all doing? We've come to the end of another year! Throughout these months, we've been looking into various modern "trends" that subtly influence our lives - leading us away from God's will. We've also been taking conscious steps to break free from those harmful patterns.

This month, let's talk about a trend that is spreading rapidly in today's world - one that demands our attention and careful reflection.

The Hidden Origin: In recent years, a peculiar style has become fashionable - wearing low-waist pants in a way that intentionally exposes undergarments. Though it's seen as a modern style, very few know the dark and shameful origin of this trend. This practice actually began in prisons. Inmates who were homosexuals used to wear their prison uniforms that way as a signal to others that they were available for same-sex acts. It was a secret code that allowed fellow prisoners with the same intent to identify and engage in such sinful behavior. What started within prison walls slowly crept into society and eventually became a fashion trend. Today, we see it everywhere - a style people wear proudly without realizing its background or the spirit behind it.

The Rise of the LGBTQ Movement: This ungodly culture has now evolved and spread globally in the form of the LGBTQ movement. No matter which country you look at, this movement is gaining alarming influence, and its impact is strongest among youth and young adults. It has even entered schools and college hostels, corrupting young minds and normalizing sin. And now, it has gone one step further - many young people boldly choose to change their biological gender, rebelling against the Creator's design. My dear young brother and sister, this sin is not just moral corruption - it's spiritual rebellion. Why has something that was not even spoken of openly years ago become so widespread today? Because the Antichrist is preparing the world for his rule.

The Spirit Behind the Movement: The Bible reveals that the Antichrist stands opposed to everything God created as good. He is a representation of perversion and rebellion, and to gain acceptance globally, he is promoting this ungodly practice - so that the world will welcome his spirit. This trend has been spreading from nation to nation. It even began prominently in Israel, where every year a massive "Pride Parade" is conducted, celebrating homosexuality openly.

What the Bible Says: Dear young people, understand this truth clearly - the Bible states plainly that no one who practices such sins will inherit the Kingdom of Heaven. This is not just another social trend; it is a sin created by Satan to dishonor the Creator and provoke the wrath of God. When people abandon God's design for man and woman, they destroy the image of God within themselves. This is why the enemy promotes such perversion - to block the move of revival and the coming of God's Kingdom in our land.

A Call to the Young Generation: Beloved brothers and sisters, this so-called "trend" is not just a social movement - it's a spiritual weapon the enemy is using to resist God's work. If you're battling with confusing or ungodly thoughts, don't give room to them. Fight back through prayer. Where the Holy Spirit is, there is freedom and deliverance. If you want victory over such temptations, be filled with the Holy Spirit, who leads you into all truth and gives strength to overcome every form of deception.

Your Responsibility - Our Stand

Dear brother, dear sister! The responsibility lies in your hands. You are the one God has chosen to stand in the gap for this generation. Let's rise up with bold conviction and say, "No to LGBTQ and Yes to Revival!" Let us stand firm in holiness, rejecting what the world calls "fashion," and prepare the way for God's mighty move in our land. Together, let's start a new trend - not of compromise, but of conviction - a generation that will say: "We are the revival carriers of Christ!"
